Personal Statement

It always takes that one day to change a person's life forever. After several overwhelming blows in my personal life, I started looking at my journey in this world in a completely renewed perspective. Harnessing the power of NLP, I managed to turn my life around. Since then, my job has been to identify the power and skills within each individual, and empower people to realise that they are truly created to be SUPERHEROES. I am extremely grateful to be blessed to serve in one of the most rewarding lines of work; to able to speak and transfer ideas whilst inspiring people. With the right trainer / coach, participants would be able to open the windows of their mind and soul and change their lives for the better. This is my calling, and this is what I am here to do.

NLP TRAINER'S PROFILE

Training Style: Keeping the Workshop Upbeat!

Anyone who is familiar with Sri will know that training is not just another job for her- it's her passion. Her trainings are focused on creating a purposeful impact, flavoured with sensible humour whilst maintaining the element of fun and excitement throughout the programmes. She also relates to her audience well, by using current and relevant case scenarios. After every break, participants are given an opportunity to engage in endorphin and adrenaline stimulating activities to ensure high concentration levels throughout the training.

Hands-On Training Activities

Participants are encouraged to think, expand their thoughts, create new ideas and step out of their comfort zones. In her workshops, everyone has a voice and discovers new dimensions of themselves. There is never a dull moment in Sri's workshop. Every primary concept is immediately supplemented with a hands-on activity, discussion, presentation or quiz. This is to ensure that the participants leave the training with a clear idea on what they need to do when they return to their jobs.

The Star Reward System

All participants who have attended Sri's training would be very familiar with the 'star' system. She uses this interesting method to keep her audience engaged to maximise their absorption rate of learning in the workshop.
